studio

Beth is an emerging artist working from her studio in Kakanui, New Zealand. She works with a variety of mediums including charcoal, pastels, acrylic and oil. Her current focus is contemporary work, often using oil and cold wax.

She first became interested in art while living in Holland, continuing classes while in The Bay of Islands. After a few moves around NZ, she has formalised her commitment and completed her art education at The Learning Connexion, Victoria Uni & Textile Design at Massey Uni, NZ.
